DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's amendment filed on October 31, 2005 has been entered. Claims 1, 5, and 15 have been amended. Claims 2 and 3 have been canceled. No claims have been added. Claims 1, and 4-20 are still pending in this application, with claims 1, 5, and 15 being independent

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1 and 4-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lewis et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,537,464).

Regarding claim 1, Lewis et al. teach a database for a telecommunication service comprising: a storage medium (Fig. 1A, 190); a first record for a first NXX number stored by the storage medium, the first record providing a directive that only calls having an automatic number identification associated therewith are acceptable for completion to the first number and a call to the first NXX number not having an associated automatic number identification is not to be completed (column 7, lines 51-58).

Art Unit: 2642

Regarding claim 4, Lewis et al. further teach the database wherein the first NXX number is a 555 NXX number (column 7, lines 20-25).

Regarding claim 5, Lewis et al. teach a method of providing a telecommunication service comprising the steps of: receiving a query associated with a first NXX call to a first number not having an associated automatic number identification (Fig. 2A, 109); determining that the first NXX call accepts only calls having an ANI associated therewith (column 7, lines 38-58); and inhibiting completion of the first NXX call to the first number because the first number does not receive calls that do not have an associated automatic number identification (Fig. 2B, 251).

Regarding claim 6, Lewis et al. further teach the method comprising the steps of: receiving a query associated with a second NXX call to the first number, the second NXX call including an associated automatic number identification (Fig. 2A, 109); and completing the second NXX call to the first number (column 8, lines 1-5).

Regarding claim 7, Lewis et al. further teach the method wherein the step of completing the second NXX call includes sending a response message to a service switching point (Fig. 1A).

Regarding claim 8, the limitations of the claim are rejected for the same reasons as set forth in the rejection of claims 5 and 6 above.

Regarding claim 9, Lewis et al. further teach the method wherein at least one of the steps of inhibiting completion of the first NXX call and inhibiting completion of the third NXX call includes sending the call to a terminating announcement (Fig. 1A, 145).

Art Unit: 2642

Regarding claim 10, Lewis et al. further teach the method wherein the steps are ordered steps (Figs. 2A & 2B).

Regarding claim 11, Lewis et al. further teach the method wherein at least one of the steps of completing the second NXX call and completing the fourth NXX call includes sending a response message to a service switching point (Fig. 1A).

Regarding claim 13, Lewis et al. further teach the method wherein the first NXX call is a 555 NXX call (column 7, lines 20-25).

Regarding claim 14, Lewis et al. further teach the method wherein the step of inhibiting completion of the first NXX call includes sending the call to a terminating announcement (Fig. 1A, 145).

Regarding claims 15 and 17-20, the limitations of the claims are rejected for the same reasons as set forth in the rejection of claims 1-11, 13 and 14 above.

Regarding claims 12 and 16, Lewis et al. further teach that the call without ANI would be routed to an operator to obtain addition information and may be completed (Fig. 2B, 217-225).

Terminal Disclaimer

4. The terminal disclaimer filed on 10/31/2005 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of U.S. Patent No. 6,148,070 and U.S. Patent No. 6,516,057 has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed October 31, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant states that Lewis et al. neither discloses nor suggest the features "only calls having an automatic number identification associated therewith are acceptable for completion to the first number". Examiner respectfully disagrees. Lewis et al. clearly teach that if the calls without ANI numbers will be blocked or terminated (column 7, lines 50-58). In other words, only calls with ANI will be completed. Therefore, Examiner believes that claims 1 and 4-20 are anticipated by Lewis et al. and will maintain the rejection.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

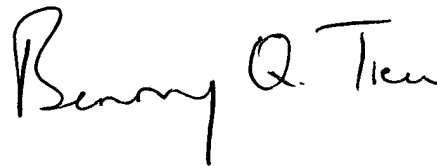

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
